

10% of Grads in Jobs Paying $25K or less

Percentage of recent college graduates stuck in 'non-college' low-wage jobs.

■ Low-wage jobs: recent college graduates

Source: New York Federal Reserve

Note: Low-wage jobs are those that tend to pay around $25,000 or less. Rates are calculated as a 12-month moving average. College graduates are those aged 22 to 65 with a bachelor's degree or higher; recent college graduates are those aged 22 to 27 with a bachelor's degree or higher. All figures exclude those currently enrolled in school.
